

Daniel G. Hopwood, M.P.H., ARM, CBCP

Dan Hopwood has over 24 years of experience as an Occupational Safety and Health, Risk Management and emergency response and disaster preparedness professional working with general industry, construction, governmental agencies and municipalities, and as an educator at San Diego State University and elsewhere.

Background/Experience Highlights*Safety & Risk Management

- Author, developer and lead instructor for the San Diego State University Certificate program in Occupational Health and Safety Management, 1990-1999
- Lecturer, 1999 -2003, San Diego State University — Safety and Accident Prevention, a 3-unit class offered in the Community Health Education program, part of the Graduate School of Public Health
- Instructor, 1989-2000 Guest Instructor, 2001-2004, San Diego State University, Certificate Program in Human Resources, Class: "Safety and Health Management"
- Awarded the Inaugural Champion of Safety Award by the Pacific Safety Council. This award is given to San Diego County safety professionals who demonstrate outstanding achievement in the safety field
- Served two years on the seminal ANSI National Accredited Committee (Z-365), Control of Upper Extremity Cumulative Trauma Disorders (1993-94), serving one year as the Chair of the Surveillance Subcommittee
- Author of the text, Safety and Health Management: Essential Considerations for Human Resources and Allied Professionals that was published in 2003 by Montezuma Press.

Program Evaluations

- Conducted dozens of Injury and Illness Prevention Program reviews across many employment sectors resulting in program enhancements, improved regulatory compliance and recommendations that improved overall safety of employees
- Developed a comprehensive Injury and Illness Prevention Program audit designed to assist with Cal/OSHA compliance

Project Management

- Managed safety consulting activities for general industry, municipalities and agency specific programs
- Managed and directed the efforts of safety consulting teams, ranging from 2-16 professionals
- Developed Injury and Illness Prevention Programs, as examples, for manufacturing, construction, assembly, telecommunications, agriculture and have assisted with specific aspects of dozens of other programs
- Developed numerous safety and health-related training programs, including curricula, resource materials and presentation on such topics as:

Injury and Illness Prevention
Program Development and Management
Incident Investigations
Respiratory Protection
Permit and Non- permit Required
Confined Spaces Safety
Control of Hazardous Energy

Working at Heights/Fall Protection
Blood-borne Pathogens Safety
Trenching and Snoring Safety
Hearing Conservation
Industrial Hygiene
Personal Protective Equipment
Ergonomics in the Workplace

Certifications

- CBCP - Certified Business Continuity Professional (1998) — #2311, Disaster Recovery Institute International
- CUSA - Certified Utility Safety Administrator (2000) - #1457, National Safety Council

Designations

- ARM- Associate in Risk Management (1997)— Insurance Institute of America